

Inforce Computing Inc
Techdocs License Agreement

The software, documentation, and/or other proprietary material provided to registered users on this web-site, www.Inforcecomputing.com/techdocs ("TechDocs") belong to Inforce Computing, Inc ("Inforce") and/or its licensors and are subject to this License Agreement ("Agreement").

When you click on the "I Agree" button or when you or Company (as identified on the Registration form) install or use any part of the Licensed Materials (as defined below):

- 1) you, as an individual, are certifying that:
 - a) you have the authority to bind Company, and
 - b) you have fully and accurately completed the accompanying order form; and
- 2) Company is consenting to be bound by this Agreement.

If you, or Company, do not agree to (or cannot comply with) all of the terms of this Agreement, do not click the "I Agree" button, and neither you nor Company will be allowed to use or have any license to any part of the Licensed Materials.

The "Licensed Materials" subject to this Agreement include the software programs, proprietary hardware design documents, and other technical documents that accompany this Agreement and that Inforce has granted Company access to download and any online, electronic or other documentation associated with Inforce products made available to Company by Inforce as well as any updates or upgrades to such software programs and documentation, if any, provided to Company at Inforce's and/or its licensors' sole discretion (except to the extent provided subject to a separate agreement).

The Licensed Materials are licensed only for use with Inforce products sold as Development Kits, and are clearly marked as such. ("Authorized Systems").

- 1) License Grant; Restrictions.
 - a) License Grant. Subject to the terms of this Agreement and payment of any license fees and other amounts due to Inforce, as applicable, Inforce hereby grants to Company the following licenses under Inforce's intellectual property rights in the Licensed Materials:
 - i) Limited Source Code License. Inforce hereby grants to Company a non-transferable, non-exclusive, non-assignable, non-sublicensable right and license to make copies, prepare derivative works, display internally and use internally the Licensed Materials provided to Company in source code only for the purpose of developing object and executable versions of such Licensed Materials or any derivative thereof, that execute only on Authorized Systems, and maintaining and supporting such Licensed Materials, or any derivative thereof, and Authorized Systems.
 - ii) Demonstration License. Inforce hereby grants to Company a non-transferable, non-exclusive, non-assignable, non-sublicensable license to demonstrate to third parties the Licensed Materials, or any derivative thereof, as they are intended to be used in Authorized Systems, provided that such Licensed Materials, or any derivative thereof, are demonstrated in object or executable versions only and are not left with or retained by such third parties.

- iii) Distribution License. Inforce hereby grants to Company a non-exclusive, non-transferable, non-assignable, non-sublicensable license to make copies, display, and use internally the Licensed Materials in the format in which the Licensed Materials have been provided to Company pursuant to this Agreement, including any derivatives thereof, for the sole purpose of Company designing, developing, manufacturing, using, selling, and offering to sell Authorized Systems, provided that such Authorized Systems include only embedded executable copies of such Licensed Materials, or derivatives thereof.
- b) Third-Party Materials. The Licensed Materials may contain third-party software programs and other proprietary materials that require notices and/or that are licensed under terms and conditions in addition to or different from those set forth herein. Such third-party notices, licenses and restrictions are referred to in the files contained with Licensed Materials. Company's use of certain third-party software and materials requires that Company obtain a separate license from the third-party licensor before they may be used.
- c) Patent Matters. Company hereby grants to Inforce under any Derived Patents a non-transferable, non-exclusive, non-assignable, worldwide, fully paid-up, royalty-free license to make, use, sell, offer to sell, import and export the Licensed Materials. Company agrees not to assert claims under Derived Patents against Inforce or Inforce's affiliates and their licensors and licensees of the Licensed Materials. If Company transfers a Derived Patent, Company shall require as a condition of any such transfer that the transferee agree to be bound by the provisions in this Section 1(b) with respect to such Derived Patent. Any attempted assignment or transfer in violation of this Section 1(b) shall be null and void. "Derived Patent" means any patent to which Company has rights that claims an invention derived from Company's access to the Licensed Materials. Further, if Company asserts any claims against Inforce or its licensors over patents that Company believes may apply to the Licensed Materials (including a cross-claim or counterclaim in a lawsuit), Company's license to the Licensed Materials will terminate automatically.
- d) No Other License. Nothing in this Agreement shall be construed as a license to any intellectual property rights of Inforce or its licensors or any other third party other than under Inforce's rights in the Licensed Materials and expressly licensed hereunder. Except as expressly provided herein, no license or right, express or implied, by estoppel or otherwise, is granted hereunder.
- e) Certain Restrictions.
 - i) Certain documents contained with the Licensed Materials may be controlled under password, and, are marked as restricted. Company shall maintain such documents contained with the Licensed Materials under password control protection and shall not disclose such documents, or any derivative thereof, to any person other than Company employees whose job performance requires access. Except as otherwise provided in this Agreement, Company will not sublicense, transfer, or assign the Licensed Materials or Company rights under this Agreement to any third party or loan, rent, lease or provide access to the Licensed Materials to any third party.

- ii) Company's license rights to the Licensed Materials are conditioned upon Company's not using the Licensed Materials with other software which was not provided by Inforce hereunder when such other software is licensed pursuant to terms that directly or indirectly (A) create, or purport to create, obligations for Inforce or its licensors with respect to the Licensed Materials or derivative work thereof or (B) grant, or purport to grant, to any third party any rights or immunities under Inforce's or its licensors' intellectual property or proprietary rights in the Licensed Materials or derivative work thereof. Such other software includes, without limitation, any software that requires as a condition of use, modification and/or distribution of such software that other software incorporated into, derived from or distributed with such software be: disclosed or distributed in source code form; licensed for the purpose of making derivative works; or redistributable at no charge.
 - f) Termination. This Agreement is effective until terminated. Company may terminate this Agreement at any time by written notice to Inforce. Without prejudice to any other rights, if Company fails to comply with the terms of this Agreement, Inforce may terminate Company's right to use the Licensed Materials and any derivative thereof upon written notice to Company. Upon termination of this Agreement, Company will destroy any and all copies of the Licensed Materials, including any derivatives thereof, in Company's possession, custody or control and provide to Inforce a written statement signed by Company's authorized representative certifying such destruction. Upon any termination, the rights granted under Section 1(a) will terminate but all other sections of this Agreement will continue in effect according to their terms.
- 2) Licensed Materials Ownership and Rights.
- a) The Licensed Materials are licensed, not sold to Company, and can only be used in accordance with the terms of this Agreement. Subject to the licenses granted to Company pursuant to this Agreement, Inforce and Inforce's licensors own and shall continue to own all right, title, and interest in and to the Licensed Materials, including all copies thereof. The parties agree that all fixes, modifications and improvements to the Licensed Materials conceived of or made by Inforce or its licensors that are based, either in whole or in part, on Company's feedback, suggestions or recommendations are the exclusive property of Inforce or its licensors (as applicable) and all right, title and interest in and to such fixes, modifications or improvements to the Licensed Materials will vest solely in Inforce or its licensors (as applicable); Company hereby makes any assignments necessary to effect such ownership provisions. Company acknowledges and agrees that regardless of the changes made to the Licensed Materials, Company's right to use any and all derivatives of the Licensed Materials shall remain subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement. Moreover, Company acknowledges and agrees that when Company's independently developed software or hardware components are combined, in whole or in part, with the Licensed Materials, or any derivative thereof, Company's right to use the Licensed Materials, or any derivative thereof, embodied in such resulting combined work shall remain subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement.
 - b) The Licensed Materials contain copyrighted material, trade secrets and other proprietary information of Inforce and its licensors and are protected by copyright laws, international copyright treaties, and trade secret laws, as well as other intellectual property laws. To protect Inforce's and its licensors' rights in the Licensed Materials, Company agrees, except as specifically permitted by statute by a provision that cannot be waived by contract, not to "unlock," decompile, reverse engineer, disassemble or otherwise translate to a human-perceivable form any portions of the Licensed Materials provided to Company in object code format only, nor permit any person or entity to do so. Company shall not remove, alter, cover, or obscure any confidentiality, trade secret, proprietary, or copyright notices, trademarks, proprietary, patent, or other identifying marks or designs from any component of the Licensed Materials and Company shall reproduce and include in all copies of the Licensed Materials the copyright notice(s) and proprietary legend(s) of Inforce and its licensors as they appear in the Licensed Materials. Inforce and its licensors reserve all rights not specifically granted under this Agreement.

- c) Certain Licensed Materials may be based on industry recognized standards or software programs published by industry recognized standards bodies and certain third parties may claim to own patents, copyrights, and other intellectual property rights that cover implementation of those standards. Company acknowledges and agrees that this Agreement does not convey a license to any such third party patents, copyrights, and other intellectual property rights and that Company is solely responsible for any patent, copyright, or other intellectual property right claim that relates to Company's use or distribution of the Licensed Materials, or Company's use or distribution of Company's products that include or incorporate the Licensed Materials. Moreover, Company acknowledges that any fees or royalties paid to Inforce pursuant to this Agreement, as applicable, do not include any fees or royalties that may be payable to any third party based on the third party's interests in the Licensed Materials or any intellectual property rights that cover implementation of any industry recognized standard, any software program published by any industry recognized standards bodies or any other proprietary technology, and that Company is responsible for any such fees or royalties.
- 3) Confidentiality. Company agrees hold the Licensed Materials in source code form in confidence perpetually, and for a period of 5 years from the date of termination of this Agreement with respect to all other parts of the Licensed Materials. During this period Company may not use the Licensed Materials except for the uses licensed hereunder, or disclose any part of the Licensed Materials other than to employees who have a need to know of the Licensed Materials for the uses licensed hereunder, and only if such employees have agreed in writing to be bound by an agreement no less protective of the Licensed Materials than the provisions of this Agreement. Company agrees to use the same degree of care, but no less than a reasonable degree of care, with the Licensed Materials as it does with its own most confidential information. Company may disclose Licensed Materials to the extent required by a court or under operation of law or order provided that Company notifies Inforce of such requirement prior to disclosure, discloses only information required to be disclosed, and allows Inforce and its licensors the opportunity to object to such court or other legal body requiring such disclosure.
 - 4) Warranty Disclaimer; Limitations.
 - a) To the greatest extent permitted by applicable law, Inforce and its licensors disclaim all warranties relating to the Licensed Materials, express or implied, including, but not limited to, any warranties against infringement of third-party rights, title, merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose.
 - b) Company acknowledges that the Licensed Materials have not been tested or certified by any government agency or industry regulatory organization or any other third-party organization. Company agrees that prior to using, incorporating or distributing the Licensed Materials provided for use in or with any commercial product that Company will thoroughly test the product and the functionality of such Licensed Materials in or with that product and be solely responsible for any problems or failures.

- 5) High Risk Activities. Company acknowledges that the Licensed Materials are not fault tolerant and are not designed, manufactured or intended by Inforce or its licensors for incorporation into products intended for use or resale in on-line control equipment in hazardous, dangerous to life or potentially life-threatening environments requiring fail-safe performance, such as in the operation of nuclear facilities, aircraft navigation or communication systems, air traffic control, direct life support machines or weapons systems, in which the failure of products could lead directly to death, personal injury or severe physical or environmental damage ("High Risk Activities"). This also includes Class III medical devices under the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act unless the use in a Class III medical embedded system has been specifically reviewed and approved by the US Food and Drug Administration for marketing in the United States or the medical embedded system is intended for marketing outside the United States and is identical in technology and labeling to the FDA-approved United States version. Company represents and warrants that it will not use the Licensed Materials or any derivative work in High Risk Activities.
- 6) Limitation of Remedies and Damages. Inforce shall not be responsible or liable with respect to any subject matter of this Agreement under any contract, negligence, strict liability or other theory: (a) for loss or inaccuracy of data or cost of procurement of substitute goods, services, technology or rights; (b) for any indirect, incidental or consequential damages including, but not limited to loss of revenues and loss of profits; (c) for any matter beyond its reasonable control; or (d) for any amounts exceeding the greater of US $500 or the amount paid by Company hereunder.
- 7) Indemnification Disclaimer. Company acknowledges and agrees that Inforce shall not be liable for and will not defend or indemnify Company against any third-party claim that relates to or is based on any subject matter of this Agreement, including without limitation Company's manufacture, use, or distribution of the Licensed Materials, or any derivative thereof, or manufacture, use, offer for sale, sale, importation or distribution of products that include or incorporate the Licensed Materials, or any derivative thereof.
- 8) General.
 - a) This Agreement shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the United States and the State of California without reference to conflict of law rules.
 - b) Company may not assign this Agreement without the prior written consent of Inforce, and Inforce's affiliates may perform Inforce's obligations under this Agreement. This Agreement is binding on successors and assigns.
 - c) This Agreement can only be modified in writing signed by authorized representatives of both Inforce and Company.
 - d) Inforce and Company are independent contractors and agree that this Agreement does not establish a joint venture, agency relationship, or partnership.
 - e) Inforce's failure to object to any document, communication, or act of Company will not be deemed a waiver of any of these terms and conditions.
 - f) The unenforceability of any of these terms or conditions will not affect the remainder of the terms or conditions.
